

Listing deals · your playbook.

Four operators asked about paid listings. What to sell, what to charge, what to say, and the lines we never cross.

Four operators have asked about listing deals. This document is your playbook: what to sell, what to charge, what to say, and the lines we never cross. Keep it private · the rate card and agreement template are the two documents you send out.

Who asked, and where they stand today

COMPANY	WHAT THEY DO	ON FEELZLIKE TODAY
Cooma Coaches (Snowy Mountains Bus Service)	Daily Canberra to Jindabyne coach + resort shuttles	Listed free, already the editorial hero on Snowy Mountains transport pages
Snoexpress	Sydney to Snowy Mountains ski coach, winter	Listed free in the Snowy Mountains operator list
Snowbus Australia	Melbourne to Buller / Hotham / Falls Creek ski coach	Listed free, already a secondary hero on Victoria's High Country transport pages
Snowball Japan Properties	Chalets and property at Madarao / Tangram	Not listed yet · Madarao accommodation pages get built when a deal signs

What you are selling

One product: the featured partner placement. The operator's card sits at the top of the transport page for every town they serve, carries a clearly disclosed "featured partner" label, and links straight to their booking page. The app support for this is already built · turning a deal on is a one-line change once an agreement is signed.

The lines we never cross. The label always says featured partner · competitors are never removed or demoted because someone paid · free listings stay free · weather, snow and road data are never influenced by who pays. Say this out loud in every negotiation. It is why a listing here is worth having.

The model: flat fee per season, not commission

Charge a flat fee per region, per season, paid upfront. No commission, no click targets, no tracking obligations. It is simple to invoice, simple to explain, and it does not put you in the business of guaranteeing outcomes you cannot control.

- Founding partner rates. The rate card prices are deliberately modest because the audience is still growing. Lock the same rate for their first renewal so early partners are rewarded.
- Exclusivity is the upsell. "Only featured coach operator in the region" can only be sold once per region · price it as an add-on and do not give it away.
- Mid-season starts are pro-rata by month. The 2026 Australian season is roughly half done, so a deal signed now for the remainder should cost roughly half the season rate.

Company-by-company suggestions

- Cooma Coaches · they already hold the hero slot editorially, because they earned it. The pitch: formalise it, add the partner label, and take exclusivity off the table for anyone else. Easiest yes.
- Snoexpress · a standard featured slot in Snowy Mountains. If Cooma Coaches takes exclusivity, be straight with Snoexpress: their free listing stays, and offer the Victoria's High Country region or a next-season option instead.
- Snowbus Australia · featured partner in Victoria's High Country, where they already appear on five town pages. Clean fit.
- Snowball Japan Properties · the placement is a featured stay on Madarao / Tangram pages that do not exist yet. Quote the rate card price for the 2026-27 Japan season and be honest that the pages go live when the deal signs · they are effectively funding their own shopfront. Do not build it on spec.

How to run the conversation

1. Reply warmly, attach the rate card, and say prices hold until the end of the month.
2. When they agree, fill in the one-page agreement, both sign, invoice upfront.

3. Send a copy of the signed page back to them and flip their placement on · it goes live the same week.
4. Diary the end date. Renewal is a fresh conversation, never automatic.

A reply you can adapt

Thanks for reaching out · we do offer a featured partner placement and I've attached the current rate card. It is a flat seasonal fee, clearly labelled as a partnership in the app, and your existing free listing stays either way. If a placement makes sense for you, the agreement is a single page and we can have you live within the week.

Private owner document. The prices on the rate card are yours to change before you send it · nothing is committed until you sign an agreement.